

A review to ensure your organisation is accurately representing its sustainability credentials

An independent review of greenwashing legal risks

The risks of greenwashing by asset owners and investment managers have recently become the focus of regulators both globally and here in Australia.

The increased use of ESG risk factors as valuation factors, growing promotion of the green credentials of investment products and responsible and ethical investment has created risks of regulatory attention and enforcement action.

QMV Legal now offers a targeted service to assist trustees of superannuation funds and responsible entities of managed investment schemes to identify and manage greenwashing risks in disclosures, online and on social media representations, and investment practices.

Targeting greenwashing legal review

Our targeted greenwashing legal review service is flexible, and can include:
